

Literature reviews are the basis for many projects!

Literature reviews are the foundation for many projects. NCC collectively represents more than 200 years of experience in Nutrition and Health. Our combined scientific, regulatory and consumer expertise can add unique value to your business, and an effective and efficient service is guaranteed.

The foundation for many projects is a comprehensive high-quality scientific review. NCC plans and produces these, via a flow chart as depicted below. In close consultation with the customer, It generates a comprehensive plan and assignment, a detailed quotation and a customised output.
